

FLAMESHIELD®:

Fire-Tested Aboveground Storage for Maximum Protection

The FLAMESHIELD® aboveground storage tank, built the Watco Way, features a tight-wrap double-wall design, providing built-in secondary containment and interstitial monitoring capability. These tanks have successfully passed a rigorous 2-hour, 2000°F fire test, validating their performance under extreme conditions. Complete with STICO Mutual's 30-year limited warranty.

Flameshield Advantages:

- Leak detection: The interstitial space allows for continuous monitoring, enabling early detection of potential leaks.
- Fuel compatibility: Steel construction ensures compatibility with all hydrocarbons and can be lined for DEF and JetA/AV Gas applications.
- Versatility: Available in horizontal and vertical designs, with capacities of up to 35,000 gallons, accommodating diverse storage requirements.
- Environmental responsibility: Constructed from recyclable steel, supporting environmental sustainability.
- Customization: Offers low-cost compartments and customization options to meet specific needs.
